Getting Around

Your closest stations (from Via Soperga 52)

- Pasteur (M1 – Red line): ~6 min walk ( $\approx 412$  m)  (your best pick for M1).
- Loreto (M2 + M1): ~9 min walk ( $\approx 684$  m)  (your best pick for M2).
- Milano Centrale (M2 + M3 + trains): ~10 min walk ( $\approx 752$  m).

Tickets (ATM public transport)

- Single ticket: €2.20 (valid 90 minutes)
- 24h pass: €7.60
- 3-day pass: €15.50

- You can also tap in/out with contactless cards/phones (ATM has an official “contactless” option).

 Metro cheat-sheet (the routes guests use most)

 Duomo + Galleria (city center)

Walk to Loreto (M1) → Duomo (5 stops) → ~12.5 min on metro.

 Castello Sforzesco + Parco Sempione

Loreto (M2) → Cadorna (7 stops) → ~17.5 min → then 10–15 min walk to the Castle area.

 Brera (art + romantic streets)

Loreto (M2) → get off around Lanza / Moscova / Cadorna (same line) → short walk into Brera (pick the stop Google Maps suggests that day).

Navigli (canals + nightlife)

Loreto (M2) → Porta Genova (10 stops) → ~25 min on metro.

San Siro Stadium

Loreto → (M2 + changes) → San Siro Stadio → ~47 min total (range ~36–58).

Linate Airport (super easy now)

Loreto (M1) → San Babila (4 stops) → change to M4 → Linate → ~31 min total.

Trams (the “Milan experience”)

Milan's trams are not just transport — they're part of the city's character. If you want a scenic ride (and a fun experience for kids too), take a tram at least once 😊

★ Tram 1 = the classic “Milan postcard” ride

This is the most iconic tram for sightseeing because it runs through very central, beautiful areas.

Why it's great for families: it feels like a “moving tour” — kids love looking out the windows and spotting landmarks.

Best “tourist-proof” uses of Tram 1:

- To the Duomo area (easy + scenic): get off at Cordusio and walk to Duomo/Galleria (about 350 m).

- To Castello Sforzesco / Parco Sempione: the Castle is served by several tram lines including Tram 1 (very convenient for a family day with lots of walking space).

Tram 9 = the easy “go-to” tram for evenings

Tram 9 is super useful because it connects key areas and is often used to reach the Navigli side.

ATM notices clearly reference Tram 9 “towards Porta Genova”, which is exactly the Navigli gateway.

Family tip: it's great for an early evening ride (before nightlife crowds).

Bikes & e-bikes (public bike sharing) + e-scooters (monopattini)

Milan is great for short, fun trips — especially around canals, parks, and “one-neighborhood to the next” rides. Here’s the simplest way to use bikes and scooters like a local.

 Option A: BikeMi (station-based) — the safest & easiest for tourists

Best for: worry-free rides (you return the bike to a docking station → no parking stress).

✅ How it works (60 seconds)

1. Download BikeMi app (or use the website) and add a payment card.
2. Choose a pass (daily / weekly / annual).
3. Pick up a bike at a BikeMi station.
4. Return it to any BikeMi station to end the ride.

🕒 Hours

BikeMi runs daily 06:00–02:00.

💳 Passes (real prices)

- Daily: €4.50
- Weekly: €9

- Annual: €36

 Usage costs (simple explanation)

BikeMi is cheap for short hops:

- Classic bike: first 30 min included, then small fees per extra time.
- E-bike: short unlock is included, then a time-based fee (great for hills / tired legs).
- There are also e-bikes with a child seat available in the BikeMi fleet.

Option B: Free-floating bikes
(24/7) — door-to-door convenience

Operators currently listed by the City of Milan: Dott, Lime, RideMovi.

Best for: “start anywhere, end near your destination”.

Key rule (super important)

With free-floating bikes, you can start and end rides only in the designated parking bays shown in the app.

INDEX

E-scooters (Monopattini) — fast for short hops

 Rules you must know (to avoid fines)

- Max speed: 20 km/h
- Pedestrian areas: 6 km/h
- Parking: you cannot leave scooters “anywhere” — parking is allowed only in bike/motorcycle parking areas, and the apps show where.

Handy apps (guests love these)

- BikeMi (station-based bikes + e-bikes)

- Dott / Lime / RideMovi (free-floating bikes)
- Bird / Dott / Lime (e-scooters)
- Citymapper / Google Maps (best for “what’s fastest right now”)
